SIX MEN APPEAR BEFORE MAYOR

Police Have Busy Time Looking After Numerous Drunks--Arrest State's "Star" Witness.

CHARLES BELL RETURNS HERE

Answer Call to Jim Levi's Home, Where a Family Quarrel Was in Progress.

Police court was a very busy place this morning, four men appearing before Mayor Black. To avoid an unusual rush, two men were tried last night besides those today. All of the men were charged with being drunk.

Richard Addison was arrested yesterday about noon by Policeman Wolters and by evening was sober enough for trial. He pleaded guilty and was fined one dollar and costs. Addison has been employed on the streets.

The other case heard last night was that of Bert Beaver, who was arrested by City Marshal Harlow shortly after four o'clock. Beaver, it will be remembered, was the "star" witness for the State in the Schuck case heard yesterday in the circuit court. After the trial he became talkative and loud, necessitating his arrest. He pleaded guilty and was fined one dollar and costs which was stayed.

The first case on the docket this morning was that of Charles Bell. The warrant for Bell's arrest has been out since March 27, but he managed to evade arrest by going to New Castle, so it is said. He returned here yesterday and was arrested by Policeman Wolters. Bell pleaded not guilty and the trial was set for next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The next case was that of George Miller. He was arrested last night by City Marshal Harlow. Miller gave his home as Morristown. The court took pity on him because of his advanced age and his being a stranger made it rather hard on the old man. On a promise to leave the city his fine was suspended and he started to walk to Morristown.

About nine o'clock last night Marshal Harlow and Policeman McAllister were called to the home of Jim Levi in the northeastern part of the city. Here they found that Jim and his son-in-law, John Newman, had been trying to clean out the family and Jim's wife demanded their arrest. Levi was found lying in the stall with his horse, "Bonepart" and refused to open the door. McAllister broke in and brought him on down to jail. Both men were given a talking to by Mayor Black and on a promise to leave booze alone were allowed their freedom.

KNIGHTSTOWN VOTES TODAY

Predicted That a Good "Dry" Majority Will be Piled Up.

Fall Creek township, Henry county, went "dry" in a local option election yesterday by one hundred votes and today a vote was taken in Wayne township, in which Knightstown is located. There are three towns in Fall Creek township, Honey Creek, Mechanicsburg and Middletown, all of which went "dry." The result of the election there was uncertain as it was believed the township would vote "wet" on account of all of the larger towns nearby going "wet." Since yesterday's election, it is predicted that Knightstown will go "dry" by even a larger majority than it did two years ago.

WAS UNABLE TO SPEAK

James E. Watson Was Billed to Address Lodge Meeting.

Members of the Shambah Temple No. 139, Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan enjoyed a pleasant social evening in the home of the temple in K. of P. lodge No. 56, 119 East Ohio street, last night, says the Indianapolis Star. Three vaudeville acts were presented and short talks were made by Charles A. Bookwalter and John B. Cockrum. Former Representative James E. Watson of Rushville was to have been present and talk, but was unable to attend. The meeting was to allow new members an opportunity of becoming acquainted and to stimulate general interest in lodge affairs.

MAY BE OVER 1200 CHILDREN IN CITY

Enumerators Have Not Completed Report But Had 1197 Names at Late Hour Today.

DIFFICULTY IS EXPERIENCED

The school enumerators had not finished their work at a late hour today. The principal trouble has been that several children who are not yet 21 years old were not reported to the enumerators and they are comparing this year's report with that of last year to get the age of the doubtful ones. One young woman who has been out of the high school for three years, was reported to have been 21, but the fact is she is not yet of age, and will be counted in the enumeration. In each case of this kind if they are not counted, the city stands to lose $4. Last year the count showed 1135 children and the gain so far is indeed a great one. Mr. Wallace reported this afternoon that he had the names of 1197 and by night expected to pass the 1200 mark.

WILL MEET SUNDAY, MAY 21

Diapason Singers to Meet at Main Street Christian Church.

The eleventh annual meeting of the Diapason Singers will be held in the Main Street Christian church three weeks from tomorrow, Sunday, May 21. A great time is anticipated by all of the members of the organization in this city and county. It is expected that Steven Dungan of Franklin will be here for the occasion. He is an old-time singer and the announcement of his coming will no doubt be received with delight by the members. He was active in the organization in 1860 and 1861 and belongs to the old cult of singers. The local organization is much older than the one at Morristown, where the fourth annual meeting will be held on the same day as the meeting here.

JONAH IS ARRESTED.

If there is any curiosity to know just how Jonah was arrested, it will be possible to find out at the Sunday school sessions all over the city tomorrow morning at the usual hour, 9:30 o'clock.

MAIN STREET OPENED.

South Main street was opened to the public today after being closed for over six weeks, while it was being paved. This will be a saving of several miles to the farmers living south of the city in coming here.

WEDDING SECRET LEAKS OUT TODAY

Miss Mae McDaniel and Will Bennett Elected to Covington, Ky., and Were Married.

TOOK PLACE NOVEMBER 10

Young People Have Denied Rumor Concerning Wedding For Months.

It became known today to be a positive fact that Miss Mae McDaniel, granddaughter of Mrs. Sarah Casady of North Jackson street and Will Bennett eloped to Covington, Kentucky, on November 10, 1910, and were married. Miss McDaniel is a school teacher and a very popular and accomplished young woman. Mr. Bennett is a nephew of Mrs. Will Mulno of North Jackson street.

It has been rumored for the last few months that Miss McDaniel and Mr. Bennett had been married. Both young people strongly denied that such was the case although they did not deny that it might happen at any time. Their friends have accused them many times but they have always held that it was nothing more than idle gossip. This week the rumor has been even more current that they had been married secretly and were preparing to go to housekeeping just as soon as Miss McDaniel's school closed.

Last night Mr. Bennett left a note with the landlady where he rooms and said that if his wife called there without him to make every effort to make the home comfortable for her. This morning relatives of the young people confirmed the rumor and admitted that they had eloped to the Blue Grass State in November and married. It was only a week after that that Mr. Bennett lost his thumb in an accident at the Rushville Glove company. Mr. Bennett says they are not married.

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett say that they kept the wedding a secret until the bride's school closed. They have purchased all of their household goods and will furnish their home in a few weeks. They will reside in the Pearsey property in West Second street. Until their home is completely furnished they will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Winship in West Ninth street. Mr. Bennett is now employed at the William G. Mulno clothing store.

"OH BE JOYFUL!"

Anderson Bulletin: If names count a baby boy born at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Bronnenberg, north of the city, should be, in some future day, a great man. Mr. and Mrs. Bronnenberg have chosen as a name for their newly born son, Joyful Isaiah Isaac Bronnenberg and the infant is still well and hearty.

GOOD AUDIENCE HEARS ADDRESS

The Rev. Wm. P. McKenzie of Cambridge, Mass., Lectures on Christian Science in Court House.

IS INTRODUCED BY WATSON

People Gather Here From Many Surrounding Cities to Take Advantage of Noted Address.

The address on Christian Science, given by the Rev. William P. McKenzie of Cambridge, Mass., member of the board of lecturership of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, Mass., in the assembly room of the court house last evening at eight o'clock, was very well attended despite the very inclement weather. A large crowd of people from Connersville came here to hear the noted lecturer while others were here from Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Shelbyville and Greensburg especially to hear the lecture. A number of country people were also in attendance.

The Rev. Mr. McKenzie was introduced by James E. Watson who made a short introductory address of fifteen minutes duration. The Rev. Mr. McKenzie said in part:

"The liberation or redemption of man implies that he is enabled to pass through the door of hope into enjoyment of that which he hoped for. Through enlightened faith the things hoped for become substantial, and the joy that was visioned becomes present experience.

"Where men have inherited their religious beliefs there is found opinionative or theoretical Christianity; but the basis of happiness in this life is practical and individually earned Christianity independent of tradition, having for its keynote demonstration and spiritual understanding. Christian Science teaches men through reason and revelation. Reason replaces opinion since it leads back always to cause. Revelation replaces dogma, because it always brings 'light.' When man walks in light understanding the law which governs him and obeying it, he is at peace.

"No one should deny that the curses of disease wrought by Jesus exhibited causation, and so were scientific. There was power which was efficient to produce these results of healing. This power existed then at the standpoint of causation. Christian Science declares that all the power which then existed does now exist at the standpoint of causation, and by effects already made manifest, it is proving this.

"Causation is itself invisible, but effects show its nature. The healing wrought by Jesus was so kindly, so blessed, that men glorified God the unseen cause. Today men are beholding results which can come only from a source divine and loving, and are becoming acquainted with the true God thereby. The healing of the sick through Christian Science is accomplished by the law and potency understood by Jesus, and it has this test and sign, that those healed by its ministry find their lives glorified with love for God, and the inner gladness is reflected in universal kindness.

"Christian Science introduces a man into the comradeship of the noble and upright men of all times. It shows him that the saints of God and the heroes of the faith are his own people if he is willing to accept the same law, obey the same power, love the same ideal. So far as the divine nature is concerned we have access always, everywhere, to God. The lost man is the one who has forgotten God, not one whom God has forgotten. We have access to divine law, we listen to the thoughts of (Continued on Page Four.)

QUESTION TO BE SETTLED

William R. Zion is Recommended For Knightstown Postoffice Job.

It was announced in Knightstown yesterday that W. R. Zion had been recommended to the President by Harry S. New, Republican national committeeman from Indiana, for postmaster at that place, says the New Castle Times. He was one of several applicants. While the appointment has not yet been made, still it is believed that Mr. New's recommendation will stand and that Mr. Zion will land the plum. Mr. Zion owns and operates a saw mill and planing mill establishment there and is well and favorably known all over southern Henry county and northern Rush county. The selection is satisfactory to a majority of people in Knightstown.

FLORA GRAY FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Complaint Alleges Many Serious Offenses Against Francis Gray—Asks For $1000 Alimony.

WANTS CUSTODY OF CHILD

Flora B. Gray has filed suit for divorce from Francis C. Gray and demands $1000 alimony. They were married November 28, 1895 and separated April 28, 1911. In the complaint she alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and says he refused to allow her to attend church. It is also stated that he showed attention to other women in her presence and on several occasions called her vile names. She asks for the custody of their child Viola Mae, who is twelve years old, one thousand dollars in alimony and four dollars a week for the support of the child.

PROPOSITION WAS NO JOKE WITH HIM

Arlington Man Accepts Offer of His Friends to Pay For License and Minister's Fee.

WERE MARRIED YESTERDAY

"I will pay for the license if you will get married," said one of the friends of Charles P. Lightner of Arlington yesterday afternoon. The conversation took place in front of the general store there in the presence of several of his friends who desired to "kid" him. With this offer came another in the shape of the minister's fee. They were having a great deal of fun at the expense of Lightner, who about this time, was doing some "tall thinking" over the proposition. This looked good to him, for what more could one want than such inducements as these. All he lacked was the girl. Never uttering a word, he left hurriedly, but returned in a few minutes with the other party necessary to carry out the bargain. They came to this city and procured the license. Her name was Bertha E. Smith. Now Lightner has the joke on them and it looks as though they are the "fall guys" for he certainly called their bluff. Well you know, "he who laughs last."

WILL NOT QUASH 2 INDICTMENTS

Judge Blair Refuses to Erase Two Gaming Cases on Motion of Deputy Prosecutor.

CONNECTED TO SCHUCK CASE

Court Grants Divorce to Emma E. Shaw of Williamstown--Places New Cases on Docket.

Contrary to expectations the two gaming cases which have been on the circuit court docket since February, 1910, were not quashed this morning, after Jesse Schuck was found not guilty in the circuit court yesterday afternoon on the charge of keeping a gaming house. The two charges are directly connected with the Schuck case as they are alleged to have taken place in the room where it was charged that Schuck run a game. The charges are against Fred Clevenger and Denny Ryan, each for gaming. They were returned by the grand jury in February, 1910, when the affidavit against Schuck was made.

Yesterday afternoon, after deliberating for fifty minutes a jury found Schuck not guilty of keeping a gaming house in the Grand hotel. This morning Dennis O'Neil, deputy prosecutor, appeared in open court and asked that the charges against Clevenger and Ryan be quashed. The court said he would not take such action and that the cases would be tried.

It was generally supposed that the court would quash the two charges since the two men who were supposed to have committed the offense in the room where, at least a jury found it that way, Schuck did not conduct a game. Judge Blair ordered the deputy prosecutor to bring Robert Grimmer of Andersonville into court to act as a witness for the State. Grimmer is alleged to have accompanied Bert Beaver, who was the State's star witness in the Schuck case, where the alleged game took place. The two cases were set down on the court docket for Saturday, May 13.

At noon today Judge Blair heard the evidence in the divorce suit of Emma E. Shaw against Thomas Shaw, both of Williamstown, located on the Rush-Decatur county line. Shortly after hearing the testimony of the two principals, the court granted the divorce and adjudged the costs against the defendant. Mr. Shaw did not fight the case, but appeared and testified.

Mrs. Shaw said on the witness stand that she was thirty-two years old, while her husband was sixty-four. She declared that jealousy was the sole cause for their trouble as her husband would not allow her to be out of his sight. She said that he accused her of being too intimate with other men and said that she went to Greensburg to meet a red-haired saloon keeper, when there were no saloon keepers with auburn locks in the "lone tree" city. Mrs. Shaw testified that her husband called her vile names and once threw her down and took some money from her. She said they had not lived together since March 23, 1911, and that they parted once before and later went back together.

Shaw testified that he had not called her vile names and that he believed he had just cause for being jealous of her. He asserted that they could not live together and be happy.

Mrs. Shaw asked for alimony in the complaint, but when she learned that Shaw had conveyed his property to his daughter, she withdrew that request.

All hens that lay only single eggs better sit up and take notice, for the single egg bids fair to be outclassed by double and even three eggs in a single shell. An enterprising hen owned by Mrs. Willard Miers, of near Burney, lays an egg that contains three eggs in the shell. The egg is much larger than ordinary ones, and yesterday when Mrs. Miers broke what she thought was a double egg she discovered enclosed within the shell were three fully developed and full sized eggs. She compared them with single eggs and found that all were as large as the ordinary egg.

PERRY McCORRY

UNCLE SAM DOES SOME SLEUTHING

Sensational Evidence Against a Detective Agency.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

At the Preliminary Hearing of the Members of the Perkins Detective Agency, Charged With Conspiring
to Obtain Money From President Strong of the Erie, Postoffice Inspectors Show Their Hand.

Philadelphia, April 29.—Irregular edges of two black hand letters fitting perfectly in to corresponding edges of two sheets of paper, it was testified from a member of the agency, formed a dramatic climax to the hearing
before United States Commissioner Craig of Charles Franklin, manager of the Philadelphia office of the Perkins detective agency, charged with conspiracy to obtain money for the agency by sending black hand letters to Charles H. Strong, president of the Pittsburg & Erie railroad. For the first time since the arrest, on April 13
of Gilbert Perkins, head of the agency
his son Walter, manager of the Indianapolis office, and Franklin, in this city, the government showed its hand
at this hearing.

Testimony to show that the three conspired to get employment for the agency in ferretting out the writer of black hand letters to the railroad president, was given by several postal inspectors. According to the inspectors
the Perkins agency sent two letters,
the first threatening to blow up
Strong's family mausoleum at Erie, Pa., unless $50,000 was deposited in a certain place, and the second threatening Strong and his wife with death
unless the demand was complied with.
The letters were irregularly torn on the edges.

President Strong testified that Gilbert Perkins assured him that the agency would make an arrest and that "the torn pieces of these black hand
letters would be found on the person apprehended."

Postal Inspector James M. Woltz of Parkersville, W. Va., testified that when he arrested the elder Perkins
he found on him a sealed envelope bearing the letterhead of the Reed House, at Erie, Pa. In this envelope
he swore were the sheets of torn paper that fitted into the jagged edges of the black hand letters which they produced at the hearing.

Inspector James B. Cortelyou of this city produced four letters, two written in pencil and two with pen and ink. They were written by Franklin, he said, at his dictation after Franklin had been arrested. In text they were the same as the black hand letter received by Mr. Strong.

After qualifying as a handwriting expert, William G. Pengell of Columbus, O., testified that in his opinion the man who wrote them was the writer of the original black hand letters.

AT IT AGAIN

Big Incendiary Blaze in the Kentucky
Tobacco District.

Brandenburg, Ky., April 29.—Night riders are charged with burning the tobacco barn of George Meador, near Brandenburg. About 20,000 pounds of tobacco were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $25,000. Meador and other farmers recently received letters warning them to destroy their tobacco beds, several matches being attached to each of the letters. The incendiaries drove all of the stock out of the barn before firing it.

STARTLED SPECTATORS

Aviator Ward Battles With Storm Five Thousand Feet in Air.

Nashville, Tenn., April 29.—Battling with a storm 5,000 feet above the earth, Aviator James J. Ward startled the spectators at the aviation meet here when he throttled his engine, sending a trail of smoke like a meteor
from the rear of his machine. Ward had just reappeared from out a dense wind cloud when the scene occurred and the onlookers thought the wind and rain had caused an ignition.

M'MANIGAL TO BE A STAR WITNESS

Burns Informer Cuts Loose
From Co-Defendants.

REFUSES TO SEE ATTORNEYS

When Approached by Job Harriman, Leading Counsel For Defense in Dynamite Case, Ortie McManigal Said
He Wanted to Have Nothing to Do With Any Lawyer Connected With the Labor Movement.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 29.—"I do not want to see you or Judge Hilton or any other attorney connected with the labor movement. We will let things take their course."

With these words addressed to Attorney Job Harriman, Ortie E. McManigal, who has made several confessions of participating in dynamite plots and has implicated James B. Mc-Namara and John J. McNamara in the dynamiting of the Times building here, indicated his attitude toward the men who are his co-defendants. It is evident that he is going to seek advice from Burns and be guided by what the detective tells him to do.
That he will be the star witness for the prosecution is a foregone conclusion.

Widely published "confessions" sent out of Los Angeles were merely faked statements into which had been welded various circumstances relating to McManigal in Chicago. District Attorney Fredericks reiterated that not one word of what was taken down
when McManigal made his confession Thursday had been given and that none would be. The confessions were constructed of admissions wormed
from the detectives.

John H. Baker, a clerk in the employ of the Giant Powder company of Giant, Cal., where the explosive used to wreck the Times was bought last September, has arrived in Los Angeles and will take a look at James B.
McNamara. Baker delivered the 500 pounds of dynamite to three men Sept. 23 last, and they took it away in a launch. It is charged that James McManigal, passing under the name of J. B. Bryce, signed for the delivery of the explosive, Baker taking his signature. Identification of McNamara as Bryce, therefore, will weld another link in the chain.

Clarence Darrow is expected here Monday. There seems to be no doubt that he is coming despite denials he is said to have given out in Chicago.
Attorneys Job Harriman and O. N.
Hilton say that he is to take part in the defense.

Detective Burns telegraphed to District Attorney Fredericks a denial that McManigal has been in his pay
as an informer.

FIGHTING THE CASE

Tilden and Associates Don't Want to Go to Springfield.

Chicago, April 29.—Edward Tilden, head of the beef trust, W. C. Cummings and George M. Benedict were arrested on warrants charging them with contempt of the state senate in refusing to produce documents demanded by the committee in the investigation of the alleged bribery in connection with Lorimer's election to the United States senate.

Their attorneys immediately went before Judge Pettit and obtained a writ of habeas corpus, returnable immediately. The men were released under bonds of $5,000 each to appear before Judge Pettit Monday, when the final disposition will be made of the writs of habeas corpus.

DETECTIVES REWARDED

But Claim in Goebel Case Was Cut
Nearly in Half.

Frankfort, Ky., April 29.—The state
circuit court has awarded $5,500 to detectives who brought suit against the Goebel reward fund commission for the capture and conviction of Henry Yountsey and Jim Howard, charged with taking part in the assassination of Governor Goebel in January, 1900.
The detectives are T. R. Griffith of Somerset, Ky., and William Harding and Des Armstrong of Louisville.
Their petition requested an award of $10,000.

Found Dying Alongside Track.

Lafayette, Ind., April 29.—An unidentified man was found dying at the side of the Big Four tracks three miles east of the city. The man is a painter and the initials C. B. H. were found in his hat. His skull is fractured and he cannot live. He was on his way to Indianapolis and fell off a train.

Farmer Hangs Himself.

Muncie, Ind., April 29.—The body of Joseph N. Watt, aged sixty-eight, one of the wealthiest farmers of Delaware county, was found hanging from a rope fastened to a post at the top of the stairway in his home. Watt was in poor health.

Foley's Kidney Pills.

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Mrs. Eli Cullers, Huntington, Ind., says: "I have been troubled severely with kidney trouble for some time and recently it became much worse. My kidney action was much too frequent and I suffered from a severe pain over the back. However, a few doses of Foley's Kidney Pills were all that was necessary to completely correct these ailments and thanks to Foley Kidney Pills which I gladly recommend." F. B. Johnson & Co.

AN EASY AND HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR.

Who does not know of the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, put up an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. It is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the manufacturers upon receipt of price.

Plant Trees.

Even though Arbor day has passed it is not too late to plant a tree. Tree planting can not be pushed too vigorously in this present age. Not that we of this generation will ever suffer for the want of them as the supply is probably great enough to last many centuries, yet there are many generations to come after us. Thanks to our forefathers, we are here and are enjoying the freedom and health that we are. In return we should do something for the people that are to inhabit the land after we are dead and gone. We can do no better thing than plant a tree.

Perhaps many of the beautiful trees that grace Rushville's streets today were never enjoyed by those who planted them. It takes a quarter of a century to develop a fine shade tree and in some instances even longer. Those who planted the beautiful specimens that make this city's streets beautiful, did it for us as we are the ones who are benefited. So, in turn, we should pass it on down the line and lend a hand for the prosperity and enjoyment of coming generations.

It is very fortunate that such men as Charles W. Fairbanks have become interested in such work. He is so imbued with the idea that he seldom delivers a speech that he does not touch on the subject of forestry. No other man in the State of Indiana can do more good than he.

Prof. M. B. Thomas, head of the botany department in Wabash College, and also well versed in forestry, has lent his influence and much of his valuable time to the cause. Perhaps no man in Indiana is better acquainted with trees and their habits than he and he has done much and will do volumes more to assist in the conservation of Indiana's woodlands and forests.

Obviously Governor Marshall's presidential star is waning. He has made a miserable mess by his actions in the dynamite case in issuing the requisition for McNamara's removal to California as soon as it was asked and then by stating in the next breath that he would have acted differently had he known that Mc-Namara was a labor leader. That only makes it worse as he should explain why he would act differently with a labor leader than with any other citizen in Indiana. Although labor leaders should be treated decently, there is no reason to believe that they should be favored over any other person.

The conviction on a gambling charge is apparently a very difficult one on the part of any jury. The law allows that a man must be proved guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, else he is innocent. That allowance of the law has come in very conveniently at times to save many while in other instances, had it not been so, the charged person might have hung or have been compelled to spend the remainder of his life behind prison bars. Perhaps it is best as it is. If it applies to one, it must apply to all.

Labor officials are very anxious to arrest everyone who seems to be the least bit implicated in the alleged plot to spirit McNamara out of the State. Hoosier constables took men in charge who could not possibly have had anything to do with it, as for instance the deputy prosecutor who was in Indianapolis to gather evidence. We have not heard of any constables chasing about after Gov. Marshall, by whose action, and only his, it was possible for McNamara to be taken to California.

An alloy has been found which does not add to the weight or detract from the appearance of gold, and which gives it an adamant hardness. This is cheering news, as the discovery insures our money lasting longer than we have been able to make it heretofore.

The time for the road drag will be ripe when the streets and country highways are slightly dried after the rains of the last few days. Too much emphasis can not be placed on the road drag as a method for keeping city streets and country roads in good repair. Try one and see.

An American woman who has won considerable fame on the stage has married an Egyptian prince. We can not now question her right to wear a harem skirt. It does not mean that all women must wed a prince of the desert to don one, however.

A San Francisco woman wants $20,000 damages because her hair turned green after she had endeavored to have it dyed. The defendant might set up the claim that $20,000 is too much to pay for damaging hair that was not satisfactory in the beginning.

The Suffragists will make a complete canvass of Kansas. If they would remain at home and bake some eatable bread, they might get a chance to cook the political broth.

A school text book makes trouble in Japan because it dims the Mikado's glory. In our country we would consult the opinion of the small boy before the president's.

We are glad the farm papers get the low postage rate. The boy who spends his evenings reading about the price of turnips will pay more than poll tax some day.

Democratic leaders in the House free-list will be allowed. Such czar-like flourishes in advance often end in striking a snag.

It will take some time to find out whether the Republicans or the Democrats in the Senate are most troubled with insurgency.

These trees that are planted on Arbor day are coming along just in time to give the horses some nice juicy bark to nibble on this summer.

Marrying on a wager is almost as bad as marrying on three dollars a week.

After carefully perusing the weather observations for next week, we find that it will be a very improper time to pay taxes.

Now that Laurel is "dry" or will be soon, perhaps they will return what Rushville gave them in large doses.

We noticed recently that a certain party is contemplating the starting of a school of farming for young women. That would be the best plan we know of to keep the boys on the farm.

God, only by obedience. Of this obedience and its results are notable examples. We value the writings of the Old and New Testaments because we have therein the story of men and women who solved life's problems aright. They are successful in proportion as they understood God's law, and had faith in its operation.

"In the earliest times the promise came to Abraham that he should bring blessings to the nations of mankind. To him Deity was 'The most high God, the possessor of heaven and earth. Abraham had once 'served other gods,' but when he came to understand how man may be taught, guided, and helped by the unseen presence, he became 'the friend of God,' and through his experience blessed all believers with the knowledge that God Almighty is man's friend. 'This patriarch illustrated the purpose of Love to create trust in good,' Mrs. Eddy says.

"The founding of Christian Science has involved the building up of a vast educational system. A world-wide Church through its many branches offers religious teaching at its services. By means of a Bible lesson interpreted into the method for practice of the truth by the Christian Science text book, consistent instruction is given. Then at the mid-week testimony meeting the results of the teaching in Christianizing human lives become known, as grateful people tell of their redemption from disease and despair. Reaching to the far corners of the earth the postal service carries the periodicals of the movement, so that their teaching and testimony may enlighten all who are looking for consolation and hope, and gladness.

"From the platform, and through the press also, the truth regarding Christian Science is being constantly declared, and it was the Leader of the movement who appointed Lecturers, and Publication Committees; who also originated and named the various periodicals, and through the Church Manual provided for the organization and work of The Mother Church with its branch churches and societies. If any would make comparison with her work, Mrs. Eddy may well declare herself to be like Paul, 'in labors more abundant,' since her work in founding Christian Science is the greatest, measured by service, that has been accomplished in our time.

"Jesus Christ proved by his works what God is, and by visible effects illustrated the action of divine law. Critics and skeptics have denied these words, saying that the story of them grew up as myths, accumulated about the character of the hero. But Christian Science has come to re-establish by proof the truth given by the founder of Christianity; and today there are multitudes of men who have learned to love God because the fact that 'He first loved us' has become known to them through healing.

"In medical practice healing of the sick may be the end sought. In Christian Science practice it is the beginning of work and the end in view is complete redemption of the man. When he learns to overcome evil with good, he opposes good-will to malice, kindness to insult, friendship to hatred, and so dwells in peace and happiness. He is a man redeemed from the power of a false theory, and initiated into the joys of the kingdom of heaven. When love depends upon conditions it is merely personal preference, but when it flows from the divine source, outward conditions do not affect its character or continuance. Loving is living, for thus is divine life expressed.

WHO PAINTS CAN, VITAL QUESTION

Means Business For Dealer if New Law of Recent Legislature is Enforced.

SELLERS AND USERS LIABLE

The Gasoline Cans Must be Red or Else Offender Will be Sent to Jail.

Who is going to paint the gasoline can? Who pays for the paint and who is liable if it is not painted? All these questions arise as a result of the new law requiring cans, packages, etc., containing inflammable liquids to be properly painted or labeled.

The new act is entitled "an act regulating the keeping for sale or use of gasoline, benzine, naphtha and kerosene." If it only applied to the people who keep such things for sale it would mean one thing but in applying to people who keep these liquids for use it means another. In fact the law is interpreted to mean that every gasoline can in the city of Rushville and the State of Indiana must be painted.

The law says that it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to keep for sale or for use or to sell any gasoline, benzine or naphtha in any barrel, cask, package or can, unless the same is painted red, or to keep for sale or use or to sell any kerosene in any barrel, cask, package or can if same is printed red. The law provides, however, that if gasoline, benzine or naphtha are sold in bottles for cleaning and other purposes it shall be deemed sufficient if the bottles are labeled with red labels, the labels containing the name of the liquid in the bottle. All gasoline cans shall have letters in black at least one inch high. The law does not apply to barrels or other containers holding more than 50 gallons.

A fine of from $5 to $50 to which may be added as much as 90 days in jail, or both, is the penalty for violating the law.

A close inspection of the law shows that it applies to any "person," firm or corporation and that it applies to any "person" who keeps a can of gasoline for use. That's what everybody keeps gasoline for. They don't keep it as a protection year locusts or anything like that, against burglars or the seventeen. They keep it for use. Consequently any person who keeps gasoline for use must have his can painted red and he must have the word gasoline on the can in black letters at least an inch high. If he fails he is likely to get in jail for three months.

The consumer must bear in mind that a distinction is to be kept between the gasoline can and the coal oil can. Under no circumstances must the coal oil can be painted red. It shall always be mauve, ecru, Alice blue, but never red, because if red it might be confused with the gasoline can. The law is intended, one supposes, to protect the people who are always lighting a fire with gasoline and then explaining through the bandages afterward they thought the can contained kerosene. So it is intended for the consumer as well as for the merchant who sells the oil.

If this law is enforced strictly it will probably cut down the number of people who are burned annually in the State of Indiana. And if it is enforced the police will have to visit every house in the city and inspect the cans.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

DRINKERS ON BLACK LIST.

(New Castle Courier.)

Following the instruction of the grand jury, Prosecuting Attorney H. H. Evans has prepared a list of habitual drunkards, prisoners frequently in the police court on intoxication charges, and others who are known to imbibe too much booze. Copies of the list will be given to every saloonist and druggist in the city, with instructions not to sell to the persons named therein.

Accompanying the list was a notation by the prosecutor, in which he warned the liquor dealers against law violations. He specifically stated that all violations, such as selling to habitual drunkards, persons in a State of intoxication or minors, will be vigorously prosecuted.

The list prepared by the prosecutor contains the names of about forty-five men, all of whom have appeared in the police court at one time or another. Many of them were added at the request of relatives.

AMUSEMENTS

The Portola theater will show the same films tonight that attracted large crowds at all shows last night. The management announces a special morning performance next Tuesday beginning at nine o'clock.

The Vaudet will show the usual three reels of pictures tonight. The Thanhouser film, "The Restoration" is said to be a fine drama. "Sweet Memories," the Imp film, is up to the standard of this make of pictures and is well acted in every detail. The third film is a Thanhouser comedy, "Base Ball and Bloomers." The picture is a good burlesque on the national game.

The Star Grand will present two reels of pictures tonight. The first is an Imp entitled "The Penniless Prince." The second picture is a Thanhouser entitled "The Patriot of '76 and For Washington." The management has secured for Monday night the great spectacular $30,000 production entitled "The Fall of Troy," a reproduction of the Trojan war. Earl Robertson will sing a new song tonight.

The Palace offers two Vitagraph films tonight. The first, "Red Eagle," is a beautiful Indian romance of natural magnificence and dramatic grace. It deals with the superstition which exists among Indians that a red eagle is a bird of ill-omen, and the member of any tribe of Redmen who happens to see it first will be followed by misfortune until the bird is killed. The second picture is entitled "Water-Lilies." The story told is a pathetic one and tells of the undying love of a cancer for a blind artist. A new illustrated song will be sung.

A touch of nature makes the whole world kin, and the touch of nature that is brought out by the "Snyder Family" with Gentry Brothers All New Feature Shows brings all audiences to hearty laughter. The Snyder Family is the unique climax of an idea conceived by one of the trainers. The trainer is also a mechanic.

At odd times around winter quarters he built a little family carriage, made a tiny set of harness, several dresses, and everything else that goes to make up the toggerly for a family out riding.

Then he drew upon dogs and monkeys for his characters. Two big dogs were chosen for steeds. Another big dog, but different color, was chosen for "Mr. Snyder." Then "Mrs. Snyder" was found, and a nice new dress was fitted.

From among many other dogs a little terrier was chosen for the "Snyder Baby." Of course the baby had to have a nurse. A monkey was chosen for the coachman. After much rehearsal the animals were working perfectly. Now they drive in State into the tent of Gentry Brothers All New Feature Shows.

The family pays a visit while the monkey nurse takes the baby outside. When the coach returns it is turned over. The coachman rights it, and the nurse attends the injured members.

The manner in which these animals go through their entertaining work is one of the most laughable features of Gentry Brothers All New Feature Shows. With them the "Snyder Family" will visit this city next Tuesday.

CONCERT ATTRACTS CROWD

Program Rendered by Local Talent Well Received.

An appreciative audience heard the Jesse Pugh concert last evening in the St. Paul M. E. church. The crowd was not as large as was expected and the Epworth League made little out of the venture. Mr. Pugh pleased with his readings and proved to be a good entertainer. B. F. Miller, Martha Hogsett and Norma Smith gave several selections which were well received.

SOCIETY NEWS

A formal dance that surpassed any social event given here in recent years was that at the Modern Woodmen hall last evening when the members of the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity entertained. The party was decidedly different in all its appointments and made other events in the realms of social Rushville look rather tame.

The decorations in the hall were far prettier and more artistic than any which have ever been made in the Modern Woodmen hall. Blue and white, the colors of the fraternity, predominated in the color scheme, while light blue and old gold, colors of the Psi Iota Xi sorority, were used promiscuously. A booth in blue and white and in the shape of the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity pin sheltered the orchestra, while in the opposite corner of the room a booth of light blue and old gold, in the shape of a Psi Iota Xi pin, made an attractive appearance. The booth where light refreshments were served all during the evening, was similar to the one in which the musicians sat. The ceiling was profusely decorated with white and blue streamers, while an endless number of college, university, fraternity and sorority pennants adorned the walls. A three cornered seat was arranged in the center of the dance floor, sheltered by three large palms and surrounded by pretentious decorations.

The affair was decidedly "stunty" and in accordance with the program, a few "stunt" dances were used. The first of the extras, "Jeux on courir la chance" was all that that name implies. Girls spun the wheel and in that manner got their partners for the dance. In the list, "Dances I might have had," were also several unusual dances.

The programs were made of dark blue unfinished leather and were in the form of a card case, the Kappa Alpha Phi emblems in old gold adorning the inside. The dances were included on a white paper on the inside and held together by a gold cord. The guests were carried to and from the dance in automobiles.

The guests of the fraternity included: Louise Craig of Indiana University; Edna Kraus of Indianapolis; Gladys Rieman of Connersville; Lucile Talbot of Indianapolis; Hubert Hanna of Indiana University; the Misses Mary and Ruth Sefton of Greensburg; Ward Hackleman and Perry Oneal of Wabash College; Paul Fisher of Richmond, a student in Indiana University; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Root, Frances Neutzenhelzer, Helen Scudder, Mary Anderson, Marie Clawson, Edith Wilk, Nettie Clark, Susie Bigham, Alma Green, Norma Smith, Jessie Anderson, Wanda Wyatt, Hannah Morris, Dorothy Thomas, Mary Carr, Helen Monjar, Frances Frazee, Jean Bishop, Marguerite Neutzenhelzer, Martha Hogsett, Harriet Vredenberg, Fanny Gregg, Ruth Parrish, Birney Spradling, Roy Harrold, Harry Osborne, Leonce Smith, Albert Capp, and Frank Lyons of Chicago. The members of the fraternity are: Donald Alexander, Ed Berry, Weldon Brann, Scott Buell, Walter Capp, Byron Cowing, Roydon Cox, Cleo Emsweller, Ed Frazee, John Frazee, Ambrose Goehring, Carl Gunning, Ward Hackleman, George Hogsett, Ben Humes, Bob Humes, Louis Mauzy, John Monjar, Chase Monjar, Stanton McBride, Ernest Norris, Perry Oneal, Cullen Sexton, Gale Spivey, Max Wallace and Edwin Watson.

JOHN MAUSNER, PROUD MAN

Is Presented With German Bible by Mrs. Robert Mansfield.

John Mausner is the proudest man in Rushville at present. He is proud by reason of the fact that Mrs. Fanny Mansfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Gowdy, and wife of Robert Mansfield, consul general to Switzerland, remembered him while she was abroad. She arrived here this week for a visit with her parents, and brought with her a German Bible, which she presented to Mr. Mausner. He was displaying the book today and said he would not part with it, no matter what the inducement might be.

When A Woman Goes Shopping

SHE goes to the store in which she has the greatest confidence. She does not judge stores by what they CLAIM to do, but what they DO do. She goes to the store that she has learned always gives all or more than they promise. While some stores are always claiming to give unheard of values, it is quite often the case that some other store, not claiming so much is really giving BETTER VALUES. While we are firm believers in advertising, we know that women judge us mostly by WHAT WE DO and not what we say; hence we depend upon REAL GENUINE VALUE giving to get customers and KEEP them. We want YOU.

CHAPTER XII.

IN the meantime Dr. Zephon, crossing the library, paused before the door at the far side of the fireplace and after a moment of frowning hesitation resolutely thrust open the door and entered. To his surprise Henry Breed was not there.

In the corner of the room, on the same side as the safe, a door stood open, and Zephon, with an angry determination to see everything here, approached that closet. He put his hand upon the rear wall at the deeper side, and it yielded to his touch, swinging backward into a narrow space from which came a damp odor and a faint gleam of light.

"So," said Dr. Zephon aloud, and immediately he squeezed back into the narrow space and descended the two flights of narrow stairs to the big vault, the existence of which he had never even suspected. In the center of the vault, with the light from a cluster of electric bulbs gleaming down upon his bald head, with one of the many iron drawers upon his knees and with an old, well thumbed Bible on the bench at his side, sat Henry Breed. In his hands was a package of the paper money with which the drawer was filled, and he was gazing, rapt, at the opposite side of the vault. He turned without surprise toward the familiar figure of Dr. Zephon and chuckled as he patted the drawer.

"This is the first row on all that side to be filled," said he. "I began at the lower corner there. All the other rows are empty, but they'll fill up—they'll fill up," and he nodded his head in satisfaction. "Those other sides were filled by the bread business, but this is railroad dividends in cash, solid cash."

Dr. Zephon was looking about him in amazement. "There must be millions here!" he gasped.

"Millions," cackled Breed, his wrinkled old face breaking into a leathery smile; "there's over a billion and a half! How did you come here?" he cried. "You were told that that little room upstairs was my strictly private study—that I wished no one to come into it."

"Exactly," agreed Zephon dryly. "But now that I have found the way I am coming whenever you do or I am not going to stay at Forest Lakes."

"Don't go away, doctor!" pleaded Breed in sudden fright. "Don't leave me. When you arrived I was a nervous wreck, but since you came I have been able to do a lot of work—good work, splendid work!"

"That's because you at first did what I told you. But of late you've grown careless. You give me the slip every morning now, and I can't find you. When you should be out in the fresh air you are down here in this unhealthy atmosphere with unhealthy thoughts, counting money—not the money that you have, but the money you expect to make. I hadn't the slightest idea that you were a mere miser."

"A miser, doctor," Breed smilingly expostulated, "is a man who hoards his money for his own sake. He never uses it for pleasure or comfort; he never even puts it to work. But this money of mine by the mere fact of its being here is a tremendous dynamo, by the mighty current of which I can sway almost the entire social and economic universe—to its own good, to its own good," he hastily added. "With it, when duly increased, I can right great wrongs, change unjust laws, destroy and build anew entire civilizations, shatter and recreate governments! Think, doctor! Handled with my experience and the genius of young Kelvin, this money has already bankrupted nearly every enemy I had in the world, destroyed the iniquity of the New York Stock Exchange and given me absolute control of every mile of railroad in the United States."

OLD PEOPLE

Made Strong by Vinol.

A prominent Boston lawyer says: "My father is eighty years of age and he owes his present strength and good health to Vinol."

"During the last two trying winters he never had a cold, and was able to walk farther and do more than for years."

"I thing Vinol is perfectly wonderful. It certainly is the greatest blood-making and strengthening tonic for old people I ever heard of."

We wish every feeble old person in this vicinity would try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists, Rushville, Indiana.

"YOU'LL BE A JIBBERING IDIOT IN LESS THAN A YEAR."

No miser's money could have done that.

"Incidentally," observed Zephon, "several hundred thousand people were thrown out of work, a thousand or so starved to death, a few hundred committed suicide and other hundreds deserted their families."

"For their iniquities the Lord shall bring suffering upon his people," solemnly declared Breed, and reached down a nervous hand for his Bible.

Zephon looked at him sternly. "I want you to come out of this place at once and stay out," he ordered.

"No, no!" objected Breed nervously. "No! I must come in every day, doctor—just a little while."

"Yes, I suppose you must," admitted Zephon. "I'll give you thirty minutes every day, but some one must be with you."

"My granddaughter usually comes with me," explained Breed. "She is the only one besides myself who knows the combination to these locks, and only we four—Lillian and Kelvin and you and I—know of its existence. You must guard this secret well, Zephon."

"No danger of my telling it," scorned the doctor. "I don't want to ruin any human soul with the knowledge that all this money is here, guarded only by iron bolts and your handful of armed guards. There's a curse on the stuff. More than enough to live on has never done any one any good. Look at yourself."

"What is the matter with me?" asked Breed quickly.

"Oh, nothing," said Zephon quietly, "only you are losing your mind, that is all. If you don't keep away from this silent brooding you'll be a jibbering idiot in less than a year. Unless you obey me implicitly I shall leave you. I had a notion to do so this morning, but Mr. Rollins came and I changed my mind."

"Rollins!" exclaimed Breed. "Is he here? Good! I must see him at once."

"You'll do nothing of the sort," asserted Zephon, closing the door after him.

"Not see Rollins? Nonsense!" ex-

Nothing for the Hair so Good as Parisian Sage!

"I can truthfully say that Parisian Sage is the best dandruff cure I have ever used, and can cheerfully recommend it for dandruff or falling hair. It is an elegant hair dressing."—Mrs. J. W. Smith, 408 East Main St., Durham, N. C., 1910.

"Parisian Sage is the best hair tonic and scalp cleaner I have ever used. It also promotes the growth of hair and makes it soft and glossy."—Mrs. George E. Alexander, 222 N. Wayne St., St. Mary's Ohio, 1910.

"My hair was falling out badly; I used one bottle of Parisian Sage which gave great relief to the falling hair and itching scalp, and the second bottle cured it entirely. I use it once in a while to keep my hair in good health."—Minnie J. Eisenhard, 1512 Gordon St., Allentown, Pa., 1910.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by F. B. Johnson & Co., and druggists everywhere, to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, itching scalp and make the hair abundantly, or money back. Large bottle 50 cents. Girl with Auburn hair on every bottle.

claimed Breed as he threw the bolt and touched the button to turn out the light. "This is important. I must see Rollins."

"Important or not, you are coming out with me for a half hour's walk before you see any one."

"Then you may go!" declared Breed, turning on him with sudden senile fury. "Leave Forest Lakes as soon as you like; go now!"

"I'll not do that either," announced Zephon flatly. "I'm interested now, and I intend to remain."

Kelvin, in the bow of the boat, looked at his watch and began reeling in his line. "I am sorry, but I shall have to leave you," said he. "I must be back at the office in fifteen minutes."

His hook caught on the oar lock, and he leaned forward to disengage it. Lillian, sitting just in front of him, deliberately leaned back, though with a pretense of helping him, until her rounded shoulder touched his cheek.

"Don't go," she said, sinking her voice ever so little below its ordinary conversational tone.

Phillip suddenly drew his cheek away from that insidious touch, angry with himself that, until reason came to his aid, his blood had leaped to the unspoken call.

Herbert offered his hand to Lillian, who, barely touching it, poised herself upon the gunwale and sprang with a splendid muscular effort far up the bank. As Kelvin stepped out he once more looked at his watch.

"You will pardon me if I hurry on?" he said.

"Oh, we are all going," returned Lillian. "It's too late for the fish to bite any more anyhow."

Kelvin was already passing her. The bank was very steep at this point. Near the top she slipped, and he was compelled to throw his arm hastily about her. She let her shoulders rest limply back in his embrace and allowed him to drag her dead weight up over the little rise, and Kelvin almost cursed himself aloud, for again he had found that contact more than pleasurable. "After all"—Phillip brought himself back to the future with a jerk. "No entanglements with women." That had been the one warning motto he had set for himself, and he must observe it if he would accomplish his boundless ambitions.

Mrs. Rensselaer, puffing from the exertion of being dragged up the bank by Herbert, turned to that young man with severity. "Herbert," she admonished him, "really I think you are neglecting your opportunities most shamefully. It is within your reach to make the name of Rensselaer precisely what it used to be."

"With Miss Breed's money," commented Herbert with ill concealed disdain. "If I loved her or if she herself were capable of love it would be different."

"You are perfectly absurd, Herbert," she insisted. "Lillian is the richest girl in the world. After she is married her little eccentricities, impossible in a girl, will only enhance her charm. Let me be perfectly frank with you. This girl, while she thinks she has her mind set upon Phillip Kelvin, really wants a husband. I scarcely dare usher her into society unmarried—she would disgrace us all. But any strong man, such as you, could marry her, master her and make her content, and she would be most presentable."

"But I want to work, to carve out my own fortune as Kelvin has done. I am not so clever as he. I could not make a million in five years, as he did, but I could try, which, if you only knew, is a great satisfaction. Instead of that you make me stop work. You give up practically your whole income to keep me an idler at a few good clubs in New York. I don't see how you can consistently object. You are yourself accepting a salary."

"Herbert!" she exclaimed. "I am a guest here, and the money I receive from Mr. Breed is the income from investments which he has made for me." He laughed. "Ten thousand dollars," said he, "and on that Breed pays you dividends of ten thousand a year. It's salary, nothing else."

"How crude you are!" she protested. "How do you know that Mr. Breed does not make 100 per cent on the money I gave him? How do I know? I tell you, you are ungrateful."

As they neared the house Elsie White, who had been gathering flowers for Lillian's room, went up on the porch, where Rollins met her and stopped to chat with her for a moment.

"If you must know," Rensselaer said, "there is an illustration of why the thought of Lillian is so distasteful to me. That's the kind of girl I want to marry."

"Lillian's maid!" his aunt exclaimed. "Herbert, you are really past belief."

"You needn't worry about her. I don't want that particular one, and if I did I couldn't have her. Her eyes see no one but Phillip."

"Do you mean to say that if you went to this girl of no class whatever and offered her the Rensselaer name she would refuse you?"

"She certainly would," replied Herbert promptly. "To her position means but very little, love means much, and she is beautiful enough to command love!"

"She is handsome," reluctantly admitted his aunt, "but rather vulgarly healthy, don't you think?"

"God is vulgar in a good many things he does," replied Herbert wearily, "sunsets and flowers, for instance. Dreadfully loud colors he uses sometimes."

FOREIGNERS BEWAIL ABSENCE OF BANKERS

Somerset County, Pa. Left Practically Broke.

Pittsburg, April 29.—Two owners of two leading foreign banks of Windber are missing, and three towns are completely tied up financially and on the verge of bankruptcy, so far as the foreign population is concerned. In Windber the streets are jammed with a woebegone but determined and sullen aggregation of broken men and women. They have lost all through having faith in Andrew Zemany, head of the Zemany chain of banks and steamship agencies, and M. F. Koriath, owner of the Magyar banks of Scalp Level, a suburb. It is estimated conservatively that $600,000 were on deposit in the two banks when their doors were closed. The victims are all poor, hardworking people. The victims are not all foreigners, many American citizens and business men at Windber and neighboring villages being among the depositors.

The bank wrecking started with the sudden disappearance and closing of the banks operated by Koriath. It is estimated that he got away with $70,000. Customers of Zemany's bank then started a run and about $11,000 was paid out. Depositors were then put off with a written promise that it would pay some time. Zemany's brother says he knows nothing of his whereabouts. Almost every hamlet in Somerset county in which there are foreign residents has been hard hit by the closing of the Zemany bank, and trouble of serious character is liable to break out at any moment.

Must Serve His Sentence.

Indianapolis, April 29.—The supreme court has affirmed the conviction of Clinton Bader of Jasper county, who was tried for presenting a false claim to the commissioners of Jasper county. Bader was the president of the Winamac Bridge company.

Posse Overtook Him.

Bluefield, W. Va., April 29.—News reached here that Thomas Chafin, murderer of Chief of Police Music and Mayor Hopkins of Mattoon, was shot to death by a pursuing posse near the Kentucky border.

WIPED OUT BY LEGALIZING ACT

"Constructive Charges" Not Collectible.

SO THE TRUSTEES MAINTAIN

Prosecutors Over the State Are Seeking Ruling From the Attorney General on Legalizing Acts of the General Assembly Relating to Reports Made by Board of Accounts as to Township Trustees.

Indianapolis, April 29.—Prosecuting
attorneys who received the cases filed by the attorney general on reports made by the state board of accounts concerning the official records of former township trustees and other public officers held accountable for various sums, seek a ruling from the attorney general on the various legalizing acts of the recent general assembly concerning the effects of such acts on the sums charged back to the former officers.

It is believed by cursory study of the legalizing acts that most of the so-called "constructive charges" made by the state board of accounts have been wiped out by the acts. The "constructive charges" were charges made by examiners where moneys had been expended contrary to the letter of the law, but for which expenditures the corporations received full value in return. Under the law the examiners held such expenditures should be reported and made a charge against the officers, and in view of the fact that the corporations had received full value the charges were placed in a class to themselves.

The act which is thought to have the widest effect in legalizing the "constructive charges," is found on Page 693 of the new volume of acts, entitled "An act entitled an act for the relief of township trustees in certain cases, and declaring an emergency." It was approved by the governor March 7. The language of this act is so broad, it is held that it will be impossible to collect by court action any of the moneys charged by the state board as "constructive charges."

Trustees over the state are saying that under this act they are entitled to immunity from the "constructive charges," and the prosecutors are hesitating about going into court to collect such charges.

TAKING HIS TIME

Prosecutor Baker Declines to Rush
Kidnapping Charge.

Indianapolis, April 29.—Public Prosecutor Frank P. Baker has given the labor unions to understand that there would be no indictments in the alleged kidnapping cases unless both the law and the facts justified them.
He said that the steps that have been taken by the grand jury in the investigation of matter in connection with J. J. McNamara's arrest had not been authorized by him and that he would sign no indictments of any kind until he could superintend the investigation himself and know what the testimony is. This statement was brought out apparently by attempts to rush witnesses before the grand jury in the kidnapping cases and if possible get the subject before that body before the prosecutor had studied the law and the facts and reached a conclusion as to whether indictments would lie at all in the cases.

Prosecutor Baker, two days ago, declared the proceedings before the police judge illegal and many lawyers agree with him, but he questions if the parties to them—the police and Detective Burns and others—are amenable to any law for their action.

SENATOR KERN SAYS THAT BOOM IS A JOKE

Being for Marshall, He Is Not a Candidate.

Indianapolis, April 29.—Senator John W. Kern arrived home from Washington yesterday and it took him only a few seconds to declare the movement to nominate him for president to be a joke. Before he left the train at the union station his attention was called to the organization in this city of the Kern Presidential club, and he was asked what he knew about it.

"I have treated this whole matter
as a joke from the start, and I shall continue to treat it as such," he said.
"I am not a candidate for president.
I am for Governor Marshall and have been for him all along, and shall continue to be for him. The Democrats of Indiana are solidly for Marshall.
This will be my attitude throughout."

A NEW ELEMENT

Has Been Introduced Into the Mexican Peace Negotiations.

El Paso, Tex., April 29.—There is some gloom in the insurrecto camp, mingled with elation. The gloom comes from the devilry the insurrectos fear through the return to Mexico
of Bernardo Reyes and an interview given out at New Orleans by Dr. Vasqueza Gomez in which he appears not to give such hearty accord to peace negotiations. The elation is over the actual appointment in Mexico of a peace commissioner for Mexico to deal with the insurrectos here. Francisco Carbajal, judge of the supreme court of Mexico, is the man named as commissioner. "Entirely satisfactory,"
said Madero, when he heard of the appointment.

After he had read the statement of Dr. Vasquez Gomez, Madero continued: "I agree with Dr. Gomez that no peace treaty is possible which does not give full assurance of sincerity and liberty to all of the people of Mexico."

Reyes Is on His Way.

Paris, April 29.—General Bernardo
Reyes, Mexican ex-minister of war,
has left here for London on his way back to Mexico.

NINE FIRE VICTIMS

Widow's Home Destroyed and All Inmates Save Two Perish.

Rosnoke, Va., April 29.—The ninth victim was added to the list of those who perished in the fire which almost completely wiped out the family of Mrs. J. H. Nunn, whose home was burned here early Friday when William Nunn, twenty-two years old, died in a hospital last night.

The family consisted of Mrs. Nunn and ten children. An attempt was made to arouse them. Only three could be awakened and these escaped
by leaping from the second floor windows. The other members of the family except one son, Mortimer, who died in the arms of a fireman, were burned to death.

Was He the Missing Wheelock?

Boston, April 29.—It is the belief of T. J. Falvey, president of the Massachusetts Bonding company, as well as that of many of the employees, that Oscar Creighton, who was recently killed by a band of Mexican rebels along the Texas border, is, or was, Oscar M. Wheelock, auditor of the company, who absconded about two years ago, leaving a shortage in his accounts of $9,200. President Falvey has positively identified a picture of "Creighton" as Wheelock, and a number of the company's clerks did likewise.

Youthful Robber Confesses.

Mount Vernon, Ill., April 29.—Martin Kidd, aged 16, is under arrest here on a charge of robbing the Southern Express company at Cullman, Ala., of $1,450. According to the police he confessed he worked the combination of the office safe at two different times.

The United Presbyterian Junior Mission Band will meet in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Carey Keaton, as administrator of the estate of Elizabeth Hittle, deceased, has filed suit against Alva M. Nelson, et al., for an order to sell real estate to pay debts.

New Castle Courier: Morton E. Jamison and Maude E. Holland, both of Knightstown, were married Thursday afternoon by Rev. C. E. Shultz at the clerk's office. They will reside in Knightstown.

The Rev. Byron Piatt of Indianapolis will preach at the Main Street Christian church tomorrow both morning and evening. He will address the Century Sunday school class in the morning.

REDUCTION IN TUNGSTEN PRICE

A. T. Mahin Makes Demand on Company For Better Rates and it is Finally Granted.

ARE CHEAPER FOR CONSUMERS

A. T. Mahin, superintendent of the water, light and power plant, has just accomplished something which will mean a great saving to the consumers of electricity in Rushville. He managed to get a reduction in the price of Tungsten lamps, which have proved to be the best electric lamps that are made. Rushville people are using them generally. The first of this year, Mr. Mahin made a demand on the General Lamp Company, which controls the Mazda Tungsten lamp, asking that they furnish the lamps at a cheaper rate when purchased in larger quantities. Not until this time did the company grant Mr. Mahin's request. At the reduced cost the lamps will now be sold to the consumers as follows: 25 watt for 60c; 60 watt, 90c; 100 watt, $1.25; 5 per cent off on half dozen and 10 per cent off on dozen lots.

ECLIPSE A FAILURE.

The reported complete eclipse of the sun which was to have been seen all over the United States last evening about an hour before sundown, was a failure in Rushville. It is no fault of the sun and the forecasters, as the rain was falling fast yesterday evening about that time.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS.

WILL THERE BE A CLEAN UP DAY?

Newspapers All Over Sixth District Are Pointing to Rushville as an Example.

SAY EVENT WILL BE OBSERVED

Women Are Working at it in Other Cities and Meeting With Signal Success.

A false impression seems to have gone abroad that Rushville is to have a "Cleanup" day this year. Far be it from Rushville, even though it has been found that public sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of such a day. If some local club or organization would get behind the movement and boost it, there is little doubt but what the dreams of many Rushville people who would have a clean city, would be realized. But as it is no progress is being made.

Newspapers all over the Sixth district have pointed to Rushville as one of the cities where "Cleanup Day" will be observed this spring. Yesterday an article beginning, "With Connersville, Rushville and Richmond announcing the observance of an annual 'Cleanup Day,' isn't it about time for New Castle to come along with a similar announcement," appeared in the New Castle Courier. The false impression is due to the fact that Rushville has held a "Cleanup Day" every spring up until last year, when the annual observance was allowed to pass unnoticed.

The advantages of "Cleanup Day" do not need rehearsing. A beautiful lawn with flowerbeds and even a back yard is not beautiful when strewn with old tin cans and other debris. Of course, many people clean their yards while others allow them to go uncleared. It will be remembered that everyone in Rushville assisted in the "Cleanup Day" when it was held here. People who would not have given the brighter Rushville any consideration without it was suggested to them, worked to clean the city and the result was even better than anticipated.

"Cleanup Day" will assist in the work of obliterating the common enemy to health and comfort, the house fly. Along with the spirit of cleaning comes the "Swat the Fly" idea, which is growing each year and which is considered an annual spring event. In Connersville a firm has distributed a number of fly swatters and with them millions of the pests have been destroyed. With a "Cleanup Day" to remove the hatching places of the dangerous little creatures and with fly paddles to kill those which come into life in spite of the extra precautions which are taken, it is believed that typhoid fever will be stamped out of Rushville.
